A Brief Description of Katwa Town

Geography:

Katwa is located at 23.65°N 88.13°E.[1] It has an average elevation of 21 m (69 ft). It is situated between the Ajay River and the Hooghly River and so bounded by water to the east, west and north. It is at the eastern end of the district and is 150 km from Kolkata and 56 km from Bardhaman. Recently the government announced the Broad-gaged Railway Line between Burdwan and Katwa. The weather and climate is similar to the rest of Gangetic West Bengal, with six distinct seasons.

Demographics

As of 2011 India census, Katwa had a population of 81,615. Over total population 41,350 (50.66%) male and 40,625 (49.34%) female. The average literacy rate is 74%, higher than the national average: male literacy is 84%, and female literacy is 71%. 9% of the population is under 6 years of age.

Katwa town has a total area of 7.93 km² with a population density of 10,292 /km². A steady flow of refugees from East Pakistan increased the population of the area in the fifties.¹

Railway

Katwa railway station is a railway junction on Broad Gauge 1,676 mm (5 ft 6 in) railway line from Calcutta to Malda Town, broad gauge railway line and to Burdwan junction on Howrah-Asansol broad gauge railway line. The Katwa-Burdwan narrow gauge railway line is being converted to broad gauge under project Unigauge. The 26 km Burdwan-Balghona section has been converted to broad gauge in 2013 and EMU train started on the section in February 2014.

Economy:

Katwa's economy has grown significantly in recent years. The traditional backbone of the economy was agriculture, but the town has since developed into a major trading hub, with booming retail and service sectors. Katwa is also a transit point for agricultural products grown in nearby villages. Recently the Minister for Railways inaugurated the Broad Gauge Line for Katwa Burdwan section. Many investments are being planned for this soon-to-be industrial hub. The Bengal government recently started a mega power project at Katwa.

Every day, Katwa is visited by hundreds of people from surrounding villages, mainly for the medical services available. The late Dr. Sanat Kumar Konar, Late Dr. S. K. Roy, the late Dr. Basanta Kumar Bandhopadhyay and the late Dr. Nandagopal Chattopadhyaya were pioneers for professional medical services in the town.

The town has mobile and broadband internet facilities from most of the major telecommunications companies.

A cause of concern is arsenic contamination of ground water.

Katwa Town

Katwa (Bengali: কাটোয়া) is the headquarters of the Katwa subdivision in the district of Bardhaman, West Bengal. The area has a rural charm and natural beauty, but many trading and other business activities has made it clumsy and congested. It is a good middle class residential area.

History

The small town has a five hundred year history. The city's earliest known name was Indranee Pargana. Later the name was changed to Katak Nagari and it became the fort area of Murshid Kuli Khan, Nawab of Bengal. Katwa was invaded by the Bargis (break-away Maratha groups) several times. This was the place where Sri Sri Chaitanya Mahaprabhu got sannyasa from Kesava Bharati. Since then, this small township has been a sacred place for the Vaishnavites.
